Alexandria Gazette Chas. s. taylor, Jr.,

MONDAY EVENING, AUGUST 4, 1879.

A HEAVY SWORDFISH -One fishing vessel brought in last Monday, among other swordfish, one that weighed, after the removal of his sword, head and tail, 600 pounds. Before he parted with those useful adjuncts he must have touched at least 700. He had a good appetite to the last, as fourteen dogfish were found in his stomach. - Rockport, Mass., letter.

Corn cobs dipped into molasses and suspended from limbs in the plum trees have saved many a crop of plums for a Moreland farmer. He has done this for many years with success. The curculio will lay his brood into the sweetened corn cobs instead of the plums. From six to eleven prepared corn cobs are sufficient for an ordinary sized tree.

A breeder of poultry says: "Every spring I procure a quantity of codar boughs and scatter them plentifully in and around the hen houses. This is all that is necessary, as the odor of cedar keep away lice. This remedy is cheap, simple and effective, and is well worth trying."

I wonder how the world will get along without me, when I'm gone! ' said a conceited man. "Well," responded the friend, "I'll tell you how you can get an idea of it. You just go and stick the point of a needlo in the ocean, and then withdraw it and see how much it's missed !"

When Patrick was told that the price of bread had fallen, he exclaimed, "This is the first time I iver rejoiced at the fall of my bist friend."
